
Ph.D Open day

Open day for doctoral studies

On Friday, March 26, our faculty's virtual door will reopen, this time for those interested in doctoral studies. Would you like to get involved in research projects? Do you want to work on your own research or be a part of teams of academics and professionals from the pedagogical and psychological field of practice? You have the chance right now!

You can choose from several fields of study from biology, pedagogical and school psychology, didactics of chemistry, history to didactics of languages and artistic disciplines.

We'll meet right here

Facebook event is here

Schedule:

- 14:00–15:00 Information for foreign students – a study in a foreign language
- 15:00–17:00 Information about a study in the Czech language

Don't be afraid to move yourself and research further