
Social identities for learning

We would like to invite you to a lecture organized by the Department of Psychology, Faculty of Education, Charles University in cooperation with the University of St. Andrews titled Social identities for learning: Student social identities and identity incompatibilities impact on how they approach learning and also how they undermine it. The speaker is prof. Kenneth Mavor.

The webinar will take place on Thursday June 3rd from 14:00 (CEST, Prague) using the ZOOM application.

The meeting was supported by the Fund for the Support of Strategic Partnerships of the Charles University in 2021.

Link for registration here