
International ATECR conference: Modern Approaches to English Teaching 2025

International ATECR conference: Modern Approaches to English Teaching 2025

The Association of Teachers of English of the Czech Republic, in collaboration with the Faculty of Education, Charles University and the Department of English Language and Literature invite you to the 20th International Conference on Modern approaches to English Teaching taking place on March 22, 2025 at the Faculty of Education, Charles University (Celetná 13, Prague 1). Join us and explore new approaches to English language teaching, including: digital competencies, artificial intelligence, support for students with special education needs, engaging and effective activities for learning, exam preparation strategies, and teaching English for specific purposes. The conference will be an inspiration for all kinds of teachers, be them preschool and early grades (1st & 2nd) to primary, secondary, junior, and adult levels. The conference will be concluded with a grand prize raffle from the conference partners. We look forward to seeing you there! Join us for hands-on workshops, expert insights, and tools tailored to your teaching context.

Registration forms:

- for guests ,
- for exhibitors ,
- for speakers .

Please note that your registration is not valid until fully paid. Basic fee by 19th February 2025 – ATECR member: 550,- CZK, others: 850,- CZK. After 20th February 2025 – all: 1000,- CZK. Account number: 2401111210/2010. Please, make sure to include participant's full name in the payment details.