

---

Some Important Issues on Scientific Writing

---

Some Important Issues on Scientific Writing

The seminar "Some Important Issues on Scientific Writing" explores key aspects of academic writing, including research report/paper structure, logical content organization, and the application of the IMRAD model. Participants will learn how to effectively present research findings and communicate scientific information with clarity.